

Mental Health Counsellor

- Psychologist, Social Worker, Occupational Therapist or Mental Health Nurse
- Full-time or Part-time role
- Relationship Matters Branch Office - Frankston
- Access to salary packaging

About us

Relationship Matters is a dynamic, values based not-for-profit organisation specialising in human relationships and interpersonal communication. We are passionate, dedicated and committed to making a difference by providing high quality relationship counselling, dispute resolution and relationship education services to individuals, couples and families. LifeWorks also provides Employee Assistance Programs, training and consulting to workplaces.

About the role

This role will be involved in the provision of clinical assessment, psychological focused strategies, counselling, case work, group work and therapeutic support for the Frankston community in our Accessible Psychological Interventions (API) Program. This involves working with clients with complex mental health issues and those with multiple presenting issues.

Responsibilities will include:

- provision of therapeutic counselling and group work interventions for clients with a mental illness
- facilitation of API group psych-education programs

About you

With tertiary qualifications in Psychology, Social Work, Occupational Therapy & Nursing, with a minimum of 2 years' experience, you are registered with AHPRA or be a member of AASW and have mental health accreditation. You have experience in the provision of counselling to people with complex mental health presentations including those with a trauma history.

You have the ability to contribute to the provision of exceptional counselling services and to promote the profile of LifeWorks in the community. A professional in your field, you can work independently while working within a cohesive, committed and high performing team. Together with your exceptional level of ethical standards and well-developed interpersonal communication and teamwork skills, you have the capacity to manage and ensure high standards of practice.
