About the role

We are seeking an experienced self-motivated, client-focused family and relationship counsellor. You will undertake intake and assessment interviews, and offer counselling and deliver evidence based therapy to individuals, couples and families including clients seeking assistance with their relationships.

We are seeking a practitioner who can:

- Provide life span appropriate individual, child, family and couples counselling, assessment and case management interventions,
- Undertake client centred therapeutic counselling and group work interventions,
- Manage themselves and their caseloads in a sustainable and effective manner,
- Work collaboratively across our client service lines
- Show excellent interpersonal understanding and communication skills
- Work with a range of technologies and service delivery modalities.
- Work with a range of clients from different backgrounds and life experiences.

About you

You will be:

- A client focused practitioner with demonstrated experience in fee-for-service delivery
- A tertiary qualified Practitioner with Psychology, Social Work, Counselling or Family Therapy qualifications and postgraduate studies, with a minimum of 5 years' experience;
- Registered with AHPRA or AASW or the equivalent Professional association,
- Have proficiency in contemporary methods of counselling and family therapy, along with direct experience in the field; knowledge of Gottman theories and practice is an advantage.
- Knowledgeable about the Family Law Act 1975,
- Be eligible as a Family Counsellor under the Act;
- Able to promote the profile of Relationship Matters across the community through providing professional, caring service delivery.

A professional in your field, you can work independently while working within a cohesive, committed, and high performing team. Together with your exceptional level of ethical standards and well-developed interpersonal communication skills, you will have the capacity to manage and ensure high standards of practice. Previous experience working in a human services environment would be highly regarded.
